James 2:18-26 (NKJV)

“But someone will say, "You have faith, and I have works." Show me your faith without your works, and I will show you my faith by my works. You believe that there is one God. You do well. Even the demons believe--and tremble! But do you want to know, O foolish man, that faith without works is dead? Was not Abraham our father justified by works when he offered Isaac his son on the altar? Do you see that faith was working together with his works, and by works faith was made perfect? And the Scripture was fulfilled which says, "Abraham believed God, and it was accounted to him for righteousness." And he was called the friend of God. You see then that a man is justified by works, and not by faith only. Likewise, was not Rahab the harlot also justified by works when she received the messengers and sent them out another way? For as the body without the spirit is dead, so faith without works is dead also.”

Two Types of Wisdom

An open book is shown from a top-down perspective, lying flat. Two hands are visible, one on the left and one on the right, with fingers resting on the pages. The book's pages are numerous and thin, creating a dense, layered appearance. A bright, warm light emanates from the center of the book, where the pages meet at the spine, creating a lens flare effect. The background is dark and textured, possibly a wooden surface or a dark cloth, which makes the glowing book stand out.
